The two types of third-party contributions are:

- A) Cash Contribution: Actual cash outlays contributed (wages, rental expenses, travel expenses, purchase of material and supplies, etc.) as a direct benefit to the project, that were paid by the donor from non-Federal funds.
- B) In-Kind: Representing the value of non-cash contributions. Specific procedures are outlined as follows to establish the value of in-kind contributions.
  - (1) Valuation of volunteer services. Volunteer services may be furnished by professional and technical personnel, consultants, and other skilled and unskilled labor.
    - (a) Rates for volunteer services. Rates for volunteers should be consistent with those paid for similar work at FSU. In those instances in which the required skills are not found at FSU, rates should be consistent with those paid for similar work in the labor market in which the donor competes for the kind of services involved.
    - (b) Volunteers employed by other organizations. When an employer other than FSU furnishes the services of an employee, these services shall be valued at the employee's regular rate of pay (plus an amount of fringe benefits that are reasonable, allowable, and allocable, but exclusive of overhead costs), provided these services are in the same skill for which the employee is normally paid.
  - (2) Valuation of donated, expendable personal property. Donated, expendable personal property includes such items as expendable equipment, office supplies, laboratory supplies, or workshop and classroom supplies. Value assessed to expendable personal property included in the cost or matching share should be reasonable and should not exceed the current market value of the property at the time of the donation.
  - (3) Use of space. The value of donated space shall not exceed the fair rental value as established by an appraisal of comparable space and facilities in a privately-owned building in the same locality.
  - (4) Loaned equipment. The value of loaned equipment shall not exceed its fair rental value.

The following requirements pertain to the donor's supporting records for in-kind contributions from non-Federal, third parties.

- (1) Volunteer Services must be documented and, to the extent feasible, supported by the same methods used by the donor for its employees.
- (2) The basis for determining valuation for personal services, material, equipment, buildings and land must be documented.

PLEASE NOTE: University regulations require donated, non-expendable property (buildings, equipment, land) to be accounted for other than on this form.
